The image shows a hand-drawn sketch of a calendar application interface. At the top, there is a header area with the word "SCHEDULE" in large, bold, capital letters. To the right of "SCHEDULE", there are two circular icons: one with a plus sign and the word "Event", and another with a plus sign and the word "Request". Below the header, there is a grid representing a calendar. The grid has columns labeled "M", "T", "W", "Th", "F", "S", and "S". The first row of the grid is empty. The second row has a small rectangle on "T" and a small rectangle on "Th". The third row has a large rectangle spanning from "M" to "S", filled with diagonal lines. Below the grid, there is a legend with three items: a checkmark next to a solid black rectangle labeled "Exams", a checkmark next to an empty rectangle labeled "Academics", and a checkmark next to a rectangle with diagonal lines labeled "Swim Practices". At the bottom of the screen, there is a large rounded rectangle containing a plus sign icon and the text "Add Event". The bottom of the screen is divided into four sections, each with an icon and a label: a calendar icon labeled "schedule", a head with a target icon labeled "stress level", a speech bubble icon labeled "messages", and a person icon labeled "profile".
